

THE MOVE EAST: AN EXPLANATION

FRATERNITY MOVES ITS HEADQUARTERS AND STAFF TO CONNECTICUT

By: Peter D. Shore, Union 1977

In June 2015, the fraternity moved its headquarters and staff residence to New Haven, Connecticut. The seeds for the relocation were planted in November 2011 when the fraternity's long-time Executive Director, William Millard, ILL 1980, announced that he wanted to retire. Upon the recommendation of the Succession Committee chaired by Don French, MI 1953, the Board of Governors engaged an independent outside consultant to conduct an internal assessment report. The fundamental conclusion of this report was that the fraternity needed to stabilize its finances, reorganize its office staff, modernize operations, hire a third Chapter Service Consultant ("CSC"), and improve fundraising efforts and results. The report offered only one specific short term recommendation: switch to a bi-annual convention as our annual convention carries a net cost of about $27,000 annually.

While rejecting the bi-annual concept, the board recognized that it needed to find other ways to stretch its financial resources. After countless discussions, the board decided that it would no longer outsource the day to day management of the fraternity as it had for 40 years, and would consolidate the headquarters and CSC residence in one location that was central to the locations of our chapters and alumni.

An analysis showed that 19 of our 33 chapters were located on the eastern seaboard, and 18 are within a day's drive of New Haven.

THE INBOX

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR...

"I wanted to touch base with you to tell you how much I appreciated the time you took to address sexual violence prevention. From 2000-2004, I was a prosecutor in DeKalb County Illinois which is the home of Northern Illinois University. During my four years in a county which housed a college campus, I had the unfortunate occurrence to investigate and prosecute a number of sexual assaults that occurred on campus. Too many of these cases occurred within a fraternity house. As you mentioned, in almost every case, alcohol was involved as well...Keep up the great work."

-Clinton Hull, Illinois 1990

"I just received the online version of Xaibe and was very impressed with its layout and content. Congratulations."

-Bradford Oelman, Stanford 1960

"I want to thank you for your thoughtful and forceful letter in the spring Xaibe."

-Ted Mullet, Hamilton 1952

"Thank you for your forthright and direct letter on sexual violence in the Spring 2015 Xaibe. Dealing with sexual assault, as with any crisis, the first two steps are acknowledging that there is a real problem and demanding action...I urge the International and the Board of Governors to direct every chapter to emulate the Toronto Chapter's program"

-Terry Shepard, Illinois 1972

NEWS&NOTES

RECENT UPDATES FROM AROUND ALPHA DELTA PHI

1: PRESIDENTS TO MEET IN BALTIMORE

JANUARY 8-10, 2016

5th ANNUAL ALPHA DELTA PHI
PRESIDENT'S SUMMIT: 2016

The 5th annual President's Summit will be held from January 8-10, 2016 in Baltimore, Maryland with the help of the Johns Hopkins Chapter. Newly elected chapter presidents will meet to discuss various issues including budgeting, risk management, peer conflict resolution, and a special presentation from our new partnership with "It's on Us" (more on that partnership on page 5). ★

2: BOG HIRES SHORE TO MANAGE HEADQUARTERS

In June 2015, the Board of Governors hired Peter Shore, Union 1977 as the Director of Administrative and Support Services. His primary role is to manage the day-to-day operations of the fraternity's headquarters. Brother Shore has been an executive member of the Union Alumni Association for 36 years as well as being a dedicated Eagle Scout while serving as a Scoutmaster for 33 years. Peter earned his J.D. degree from Vermont Law School in 1981. ★

The new headquarters is a 2,000+ square foot, newly refurbished ranch-style home in a residential neighborhood backing up to a forest preserve. The home has three bedrooms and three bathrooms with dedicated space for the fraternity's office space and archives. To minimize moving expenses, two volunteers traveled to Chicago to supervise and assist the CSCs in packing up the office.

The benefit of these changes was immediate: rent and overhead expenses have been reduced by approximately $30,000 per year. All 33 chapters have been scheduled for a

CSC visit by the end of January 2016, with some chapters getting multiple visits. The relocation "dividend" also enabled the fraternity to engage outside speakers for training and education at this past summer's convention and to dramatically upgrade our electronic communications infrastructure. While the savings are insufficient to cover a third full time CSC, it has enabled the fraternity to extend the contracts of our "outgoing" CSCs through the early fall so that all chapters which needed an early visitation to assist with recruitment and/or overall organization and training would be provided resources for these purposes. ★

ON THE ROAD: NEW CSC'S

BOBBY LOBE, RUT 2015

Bobby Lobe was born and raised in Southern New Jersey, just a short ride over the Ben Franklin Bridge from Philadelphia. He is a recent graduate of Rutgers University where he was a double major in Political Science and Criminal Justice. He was a Founding Father of the newly established Rutgers Chapter and also served a term as President and New Member Educator. He is also a diehard Philadelphia Eagles fan. ★

SAM EINHORN, R 2015

Raised in the suburbs of northern New Jersey, Sam Einhorn's youth was filled with athletic endeavor on the baseball diamond, spending time with friends, and the pursuit of happiness in the shadow of Manhattan. Sam graduated from the University of Rochester where he studied mathematics. At U of R, Sam was a member of the Men's Rugby team; within the fraternity he served as the risk manager, rush chairman, and literary chairman of the Rochester Chapter. He also enjoys music and loves to discuss it with anyone who asks. ★

183RD ANNUAL CONVENTION RECAP

HIGHLY PRODUCTIVE & EDUCATIONAL LEADERSHIP CONFERENCE

By: Stephen J. Ehrfurth, Minnesota 2006

ABOVE: Brothers gather for a BBQ at the Riverside Park Boathouse in Hartford, Connecticut.

The annual convention is designed to educate, socialize, and network. This year's event, the 183rd in our history which took place in sleepy Hartford, Connecticut, was no different. Over the past few years, attendees requested that our programming be strengthened to include a broader variety of topics. Overwhelmingly, this goal was accomplished with this convention. Some highlights of the convention included:

Dynamic Recruitment Tactics

Tom Healy, CEO of Launchpoint Solutions, led an interactive presentation and small-group discussion about how to recruit quality members without sacrificing quantity. This productive exchange of ideas, was one of the most well liked presentations by the convention delegates.

Risk Management Planning

As part of our annual programming, the representatives from the fraternity's liability insurance firm presented an informative presentation about managing risk and how to host smart and responsible events.

Ending Sexual Violence

Katherine Redmond-Brown, Founder of the National Coalition Against Violent Athletes led a group discussion about how to end sexual violence.

Valuing Our Rituals & Traditions

Robert Price, K '58 gave a demonstration and explanation of our fraternity ritual and traditions. His presentation included a live initiation of Richard Scarino, Maryland 2015. ★

HISTORIC NEW PARTNERSHIP

OUR PLEDGE TO STOP SEXUAL ASSAULT BEFORE IT HAPPENS

By: Stephen J. Ehrfurth, Minnesota 2006

For the first time in our history, the International Fraternity entered into a partnership with an advocacy group with the hope of bringing a broader understanding on the issue of sexual violence. In October, Alpha Delta Phi formally partnered with "It's On Us", which was launched by the Center for American Progress' Generation Progress - an initiative of the White House. The campaign seeks to engage college students and all members of campus communities in preventing sexual assault by defining consent, and stopping sexual assault before it happens. Alpha Delta Phi believes that our members are leaders on this issue already as evidenced in the Spring 2015 issue of Xaipe but that this partnership will strengthen that commitment.

According to their website, "'It's On Us' aims to fundamentally shift the way we think about sexual assault, by inspiring everyone to see it as their responsibility to do something, big or small, to prevent it. The campaign reflects the belief that sexual assault isn't just an issue involving a crime committed by a perpetrator against a victim, but one in which the rest of us also have a role to play."

Alpha Delta Phi's role in this partnership is to educate all our members on how they can pledge to end sexual violence and raise awareness on their campus and communities. ★

I PLEDGE

To RECOGNIZE that non-consensual sex is sexual assault.

To IDENTIFY situations in which sexual assault may occur.

To INTERVENE in situations where consent has not or cannot be given.

To CREATE an environment in which sexual assault is unacceptable and survivors are supported.

PRESIDENT'S LETTER

THOUGHTS FROM THE PRESIDENT

By: Stephen W. Starnes, Hamilton 1980

We've come a long way since I last wrote to you before our summer convention. As the fall semester comes to a close, I'm happy to report our chapters' rush numbers continue to rise. Impressive as that sounds, I'm most proud to report that at our 183rd Convention granted charters to three new chapters - Alabama, Rutgers, and Maryland. These three new chapters showcase our efforts to expand the fraternity while reviving chapters that were once closed like Alabama. With the addition of these new chapter, Alpha Delta Phi has the highest number of active chapters in our history with 33 chapters. Many thanks to our Expansion Director Jay Flynn, MASS '85, the office staff and our Chapter Service Consultants. With their constant support, our goal of 50 chapters by 2020 is still in reach.

Throughout my tenure as President of the Board of Governors, we have tackled many difficult subjects ranging from preventing alcohol abuse, ending sexual violence, and hazing. I have made it a priority to raise awareness on the issues that effect our members. We have focused on providing programming that allows our organization to be an advocate for change by partnering with marvelous national charities. In the next year, I have challenged the board to work on establishing a program to help our chapters deal with mental health issues. Mental health is one of the biggest challenges our brothers face and as national leaders, we need to be able to provide our members with the resources and support they need.

Finally, in the next few issues of Xaipe, you'll notice a new effort that focuses on our emerging professionals. The "18 Under 32" feature will highlight our young alumni who are making a difference around the world in their various career fields. I'm very excited for you to see how our recent graduates are real life examples of Samuel Eells' entire man concept.

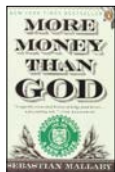

I look forward to continuing our shared success and I ask you to join me in applauding the successes of our brothers. Xaipe! ★

MANUSCRIPT OR ROUGH DRAFT?

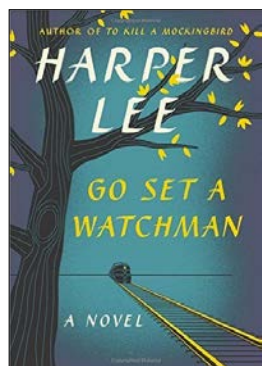

BOOK REVIEW: GO SET A WATCHMAN IS A WONDERFUL READ

By: Stephen W. Starnes, Hamilton 1980

Harper Lee, the quiet southern author of To Kill a Mockingbird, wrote The Watchman two years before the publishing the story we know so well through the book and the movie. Watchman was the first novel Lee sent to the publisher. The response was on the order of: “interesting story but I would like to see the family from a young girl’s point of view.”

Back to the typewriter and out came a monumental opus we know today as To Kill a Mockingbird. We all read it and most of us saw the movie. Most of us look at Atticus Finch and see Gregory Peck. He defined the character, a man tilting against a racist southern society in the depths of the 1930’s depression. He defended a black man who was accused of raping a white woman. With incredible odds against his case, he stood tall against a hurricane of racism.

But that, as they say, is not the end of the story. The first manuscript was found, not long after the death of Miss Lee’s older sister. Unedited and raw, Harper Lee’s wish was, if it should ever be published, the manuscript not be edited.

I loved both books for what they are. They examine a white family in its struggle to define themselves in an integrated world.

Many critics disapproved of or scorned the Watchman as a rough draft and, in the extreme, not worthy of publication.

I will not give away the plot line or my conclusions. Rather, I wish you would read it with an open mind. My synopsis is roughly as follows:

The family we know from Mockingbird lives in the poverty stricken South amid the depths of the Great Depression, during a resurgence of the Klan. Three decades later we meet the same family, again from the daughter Scout’s point of view, dealing with a collision of realities. Scout lives in New York and visits her hometown. She expects Atticus has not changed from the parental ideal. Yet, she discovers that he is unwittingly has a Gordian choice. To paraphrase Atticus’s words, how can we accept new voters into our democracy who have no concept of the importance of the vote; let alone, have any understanding democratic process?

These two books are a must read companion set. In today’s century, there is little understanding of the dilemma presented to Southern black and white families. After years of clearly defined social strata – how do we integrate?

Do not read the Watchman for its author’s refined literary skill. Read it as a raw and tender approach to the turbulent mid-century struggle. Atticus is not a bigot, just a man bound in History and Scout is a young woman realizing that her father is human and not the idealized dad we all hope for. ★

2017 MEMBERSHIP DIRECTORY PROJECT BEGINS

About every five years, Alpha Delta Phi publishes a new Alumni Catalogue. We know how much our alumni like to reconnect with old friends and find new contacts. But we don't want to publish a new alumni directory without your updated information. So please help us by responding when Publishing Concepts Inc. (PCI) sends you mail, email, or calls. Postcards from PCI will look similar to the sample to the left. If you have any questions about the project, please contact the HQ at 508-226-1832. ★
